

JUDGE JACKSON DEAD

The Distinguished Sufferer
Passes Peacefully Away.

HIS DEATH NOT UNEXPECTED.

He Had Been in Failing Health For the Past Four Years, Afflicted With Consumption—His Last Official Act Was Hearing the Income Tax Cases—The Funeral Will Take Place Sunday.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 9.—The Hon. Howell Edmunds Jackson, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, died at his residence at West Meade, six miles west of this city, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the 64th year of his age, of consumption.

HOWELL EDMUNDS JACKSON.

Judge Jackson had been in failing health for the past four years, but it has been only in the past eight or nine months that the progress of the disease began to cause his family and friends uneasiness. Last year he went on a lengthy trip to the far west in search of health. Later he went to Thomasville, Ga., where it was hoped the mild, and yet bracing climate, would restore his one time vigorous constitution. The trip did him little good, and after a time he was brought home.

At his old home Judge Jackson seemed to improve slightly until he went to Washington to sit in the second hearing of the income tax cases. He stood that trying trip only fairly well, and after his return home appeared to lose strength rapidly. Nevertheless Judge Jackson never took to his bed until last Wednesday week. Since that time his family and friends realized that the end was near, and his death yesterday was not unexpected.

Judge Jackson was twice married, the first time to Sophia Malloy, daughter of David B. Malloy, a banker of Memphis, who died in 1873. To this union were born four children, as follows: Henry, Mary, William H. and Howell E. Jackson. Henry Jackson is at present soliciting freight agent of the Southern railway, with headquarters at Atlanta. W. H. Jackson is district attorney of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad at Cincinnati. Howell E. Jackson is manager of the Jackson cotton mills at Jackson, Tenn.

In 1876 Judge Jackson married Miss Mary E. Harding, daughter of the late General William G. Harding. Of this union three children survive, Misses Elizabeth and Louise Jackson and Harding A. Jackson. With the exception of Miss Elizabeth Jackson and William H. Jackson, Jr., who are in Europe, the children were at the bedside when the distinguished sufferer passed away.

The news of Judge Jackson's death caused general sorrow in this city, where he was so well known and admired.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been fully completed, but it is known that it will take place next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Howell Edmunds Jackson was born in Paris, Tenn., April 8, 1832, so that he was in his 63d year at the time of his death. Justice Jackson was a classical scholar, graduating from the West Tennessee college in 1851. He studied two years at the University of Virginia and in Jackson, under his kinsmen, Judges A. W. O. Totten and Milton Brown; graduated from the Lebanon law school in 1856, in which year he located in Jackson and engaged in the practice of his profession; removed to Memphis in 1859, where he continued the practice of the law; served on the supreme bench by appointment on two occasions, and was once a prominent candidate for supreme judge before the nominating convention; relocated in Jackson in 1870; was elected to the state house of representatives in 1880 on the state credit platform; was elected to the United States senate as a Democrat in 1881 and served till April 12, 1886; was appointed United States circuit judge by President Cleveland and nominated for associate justice by President Harrison; was confirmed by the senate Feb. 18, 1893, and entered upon the duties of that office March 4, 1894.

HIS LAST OFFICIAL ACT.

Rehearing of the Income Tax Cases in Washington Last May.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The last time Judge Jackson was in Washington was on the occasion of the rehearing in the income tax cases last May. He had been absent from the city and from the bench since the preceding fall when, soon after the convening of the October term of court, he had been compelled to go south on account of his rapidly declining health. During his absence there had been contradictory reports as to his physical condition, but the prevailing opinion among his colleagues on the bench was that he would never again be able to resume his seat.

Mr. Jackson had the reputation in this city, and especially about the supreme court, of being sensitive concerning any discussion of his health in the public press, and he referred to the subject very sparingly in his own conversation. The other members of the court were therefore poorly advised as to his condition. This state of affairs is said to have been the reason for the equivocal character of the announcement of the decision to grant a rehearing in the income tax cases, which of necessity depended upon Judge Jackson's presence.

He was in Washington on the occasion of the rehearing for several days and gave his attention assiduously to the income tax cases. He sat through the argument, which continued for three days, took part in the consultation of the court, and when the day arrived for the announcement of the decision, not only listened patiently to the opinions of the other members of the court, but delivered a vigorous opinion of his own in support of the validity of the law. This occurred on the 20th of May and was his last public appearance. He returned to his home in Tennessee late in May.

When Judge Jackson was here on this occasion, it was evident that to all who came in contact that life was slowly but surely ebbing away and that the effort he made in performing his duties in that emergency was made at the expense of his vitality.

As senator and justice of the supreme court Mr. Jackson had resided in Washington about eight years. His associates here were confined largely to his colleagues on the bench and in the senate chamber. By them he was universally esteemed as a man of high moral worth and rich intellectual attainments, as was evinced in nothing so much as in his appointment to the supreme bench by President Harrison and his confirmation by a Republican senate, notwithstanding he was a Democrat.

His Probable Successor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—When Justice Jackson was so seriously ill this spring that he was not expected to recover, the name of his successor was considerably speculated on. The idea was suggested by some that the president would again name Messrs. Peckham or Hornblower of New York, while the selection of a man from the west fell to Don Dickinson. Postmaster General Wilson was strongly spoken of as among the possibilities, while the majority of opinion was that Secretary Carlisle could have the place if he wanted it. Mr. Carlisle would be especially eligible, as he would be appointed from the district that the death of Justice Jackson has made vacant.

President Cleveland's Remarks.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Aug. 9.—Last night President Cleveland received news of the death of Justice Jackson. On learning of the facts he said: "The country will keenly feel the loss of so prominent and able a man."

ON THE ROCKS.

The British steamer Catterthun Founder and Sunk.

SYDNEY, Aug. 9.—The British steamer Catterthun, bound from Sydney for Hong-Kong, ran on the Seal Rocks and became a total wreck. Some of the passengers and crew were saved. A number were missing.

The vessel struck at 2 o'clock in the morning. It was soon seen that there was no possible chance to save the vessel and orders were given to abandon the ship. All hands took the small boats and laid their course for the main land. One of the boats reached Forster yesterday, but the others have not been heard from, and it is feared they have been lost. There were a large number of Australian and English passengers on the steamer.

A tug which has just returned from the scene of the wreck saw nothing of the remainder of the passengers and crew of the steamship and there is now little doubt that 60 persons were drowned, of whom 46 were Chinese. Second Officer Langfur, who had the watch on deck at the time of the disaster, states that the night was very dark. Suddenly the steamer experienced a terrific shock and foundered a few minutes afterward. The Chinese made a rush for the boats, but only one boatload reached shore. The missing passengers include three ladies.

The Catterthun belonged to the Eastern Australian Steamship company of London. Her length was 302 feet 3 inches; beam, 35 feet 5 inches. Her engines were of the compound type of 250 horsepower.

The officers of the Catterthun were English and crew Chinese.

STATIONS ROBBED.

Other Burglaries Reported Along the Lake Shore Line.

LAPORTE, Ind., Aug. 9.—A masked man jumped from a train at Surgis Wednesday night, and, covering the agent with a revolver, robbed the safe of $24.

At Millersburg, but two hours previously, the telegraph operator was compelled, at the point of a pistol, to surrender his valuables.

For several nights bold robberies have been perpetrated along the line of the Lake Shore road, the evidence at hand pointing to the mysterious masked man as the robber.

Robbers Identified.

KOKOMO, Ind., Aug. 9.—The remains of the boy killed near Sycamore, east of this city Wednesday evening, have been identified as Lester Harter of Marion. He was stealing a ride with a crowd of Marion boys, but they did not miss him until after he was killed by falling from the train.

RIOTING AT OTHER PLACES.

No Protection For Foreigners or Their Property—No American Gunboat There. Miss Mabel C. Hartford, the Only American That Witnessed the Ku-Cheng Massacre, Tells Her Story.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The World this morning prints the following special dispatches from Foo-Chow, China:

A mob has just looted the American mission chapel at Inghok, 50 miles from here. Unless prompt, effective action is taken there is danger of great riots in other places.

The Chinese soldiers sent to Ku-Cheng to protect foreign property plundered the Stewart residence.

No American gunboat has come here. The situation is critical. An official on his way to this city from Ku-Cheng was killed yesterday. There is no American protection. The American government's neglect is infamous.

The evidence already obtained shows that the massacre at Hwasang was planned at least a week before hand. The foreign consuls have the names of the leaders in it and of some of the participants.

An official of Foo-Chow sent 210 soldiers in that section on the 4th of July to prevent the vegetarians from murdering Chinese. The vegetarians thought the missionaries had caused the troops to be sent and decided to kill them. They began immediately to gather at a certain designated place, and passing through the villages on their way to the rendezvous the vegetarians publicly declared their intention to destroy the churches and to kill the Christians.

The local officials knew of this, but they did nothing to protect or even to warn the foreigners.

The night before the massacre a native pastor in the city of Ku-Cheng heard that the vegetarians were going to kill the foreigners on the morning. He wrote a letter of warning to Mr. Stewart at Hwasang, but delayed sending it until daylight. The messenger arrived half an hour too late.

Dr. Gregory was in the city of Ku-Cheng at the time, but he was not notified.

The foreigners had no suspicion of the intended slaughter.

MISS MABEL C. HARTFORD'S STORY. She Was the Only American That Witnessed the Ku-Cheng Massacre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The World prints in a special cablegram from Shanghai an account of the massacre of missionaries at Hwasang, written by Miss Mabel C. Hartford, one of the survivors of the massacre, and the only American who witnessed it.

Miss Hartford's statement is as follows:

"Aug. 1, at 7:30 a. m., I heard shouts. They were the yells of servants, who rushed in shouting to me to get up, for the vegetarians were coming, tearing down the houses on the hill belonging to the English mission.

"A few minutes later a teacher came to my door and told me to run. I put on my clothes and rushed to the door. I was met by a man with a trident spear, who yelled: 'Here is a foreign woman.'

"He pointed the spear at my chest. I twisted it to one side and it just grazed my ear and head. He threw me to the ground and beat me with the wooden end of the spear. A servant came and wrenched the spear away and told me to run. I jumped down the embankment and ran along the road. A servant came and pulled me along until I got up on the side of the hill. I then lay down there to get more breath. After resting twice I reached a secluded spot and lay there.

"All this time the yells went on and two houses were burning to the ground. I supposed the vegetarians had gone away. A servant went to see how matters were. He returned in half an hour, telling me to come home, that five ladies of the English mission had been killed and some had been wounded, but that my house—a rented native house—had not been troubled.

"I went home to find Miss Codrington much cut about the head and beaten all over; Mildred Stewart, 12 years old, the knee cut and bleeding very hard; Herbert Stewart, 6 years old, cut on the head and almost dead; baby Stewart, with one eye black and swollen. The second Stewart girl, Kathleen, 11 years old, with the second boy, Evan, 3 years old, were beaten and pierced with a spear, but not seriously injured. The boy vomited all day, but we thought it was from fright.

"Mr. Phillips of the English mission, who lived in a native house some distance away, escaped all injury, only arriving in time to see the bodies of the dead and heard the vegetarians say: 'We have killed all the foreigners.'

"At first we heard that some foreigners had escaped and were in hiding, but Mr. Stewart did not come and we feared the worst. Mr. Phillips went to the ruins and found eight bodies; five not burned and three burned so as not to be recognizable.

"Dr. Gregory arrived at dark and dressed the wounds of the patients. Coffins were made and the bodies were put in them. The bones of the burned were put in boxes.

"Another burned body was found, making nine grown people massacred—R. J. Stewart and wife, a nurse from Ireland called Lena, Nellie Saunders, Topsy Saunders of Australia, who lived in the upper house called the Stewart House; Hattie Newcombe of Ireland, Elsie Marshall and Lucy Stewart of England and Annie Gordon of Australia. The first four were burned beyond recognition. Topsy ran out of the house and was killed outside. Hattie was thrown down the embankment with her head nearly severed from her shoulders. Hannah Gordon's head also was nearly cut off.

"When I was thrown down my teacher's wife called on some Hwasang men around to save me. There were four men there to only one vegetarian, but they would not help me. She came and tried to pull me away as he was beating me. The vegetarian kicked her.

"There was at least one gun, for I heard a fire. The natives say there were more."

BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Seven Men an Unlucky Death in New York City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—With scarcely a sound to warn the 70 or 80 workmen of their danger, an 8-story building in course of erection, and nearing completion, at West Broadway and Third street, collapsed an hour before noon yesterday.

The following dead have been taken from the ruins:

John Burke, plasterer, of Brooklyn. John Murphy, 3 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, a plasterer.

Christopher O'Rourke, plasterer, St. Mark's Place and Grand avenue, Brooklyn.

Michael O'Hare, plasterer Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn.

An Italian named Frank or James Kenny.

William Fox, a plasterer, is also missing.

Charles E. Henderson, electrician.

Charles Smith was taken from under a pile of bricks horribly cut about the head and body.

There is a difference of opinion as to how the accident occurred. The prevailing idea is that an immense iron beam on one of the upper floor snapped. The floor gave way and crushed down through the building.

There was a great V shaped, jagged hole in all the floors, and at the bottom of the wreck were piled up bags of lime, which had been stored on an upper floor, mingled with bricks, timbers, beams and tools, and from the mass came the groans and cries of wounded workmen.

The firemen and police who came early to the scene could hardly see to perform their work of rescue because of the cloud of dust that poured from the wreck. Many friends and relatives of the dead and injured were there and many distressing incidents resulted.

When Coroner Fitzpatrick arrived to look after the dead, he said as a practical builder it was his opinion that the disaster had been caused by the sandy nature of the land on which the structure had been set. There were others who said the building had been originally intended to be only seven stories high, and the eighth story when added had been too heavy for the iron work. But the builder denied this without being able to form any idea as to the cause of the collapse.

Henry Alexander, manager of the electric company, whose men were working in the building has written a warm letter asserting that when John Smith, the wireman, was brought from the ruins the surgeons from rival hospitals, whom he terms "bloodthirsty butchers," fought for the body and almost upset the stretcher. But for this delay he thinks Smith's life might have been saved. He died on the way to the hospital.

Parker and Sillick were arraigned before Coroner Fitzpatrick and each held in $5,000 bail on the charge of causing the death of John Burke, the man who was first to die as a result of injuries received.

A MADDENED HORSE.

Two Persons Badly Hurt by the Infurated Beast.

ECKERTY, Ind., Aug. 9.—While Michael Baugha was passing through his pasture, on his way to church, he was attacked by a maddened horse, the animal biting the fleshy part of the arm below the elbow almost away, and forcing the man to the ground, where it continued to attack him until attention was attracted to several persons but a short distance away. This saved Mr. Baugha's life.

Mrs. Ella Walton of the second group, who attempted to escape by running, was overtaken by the horse and struck down by its fore feet and crippled for life, if not fatally injured. The horse was then shot and killed before further damage was done. Both Mr. Baugha and Mrs. Walton are critically hurt. Mrs. Walton was married less than 12 months ago.

MEETING OF OPERATORS.

A Determined Fight For the Fifty-One Cent Until October 1.

TERRACE HALL, Ind., Aug. 9.—There was another meeting of Indiana bituminous operators yesterday to make more perfect the combination to resist the demand from miners for the 60-cent rate. At the meeting Tuesday night about 90 per cent of the tonnage of the state was represented, and yesterday practically all the remainder were brought into line.

It was agreed that the operators would no longer have any dealing with the United Mine Workers, but that in each district the men are to be dealt with through committees. It means a determined fight for the 51 cent until Oct. 1 and 60 cent from then until next May.

MID-OCEAN COLLISION

Both Vessels Go Down Within a Few Minutes.

LARGE NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

The Exact Number Will Never Be Ascertained as One of the Vessels Is Unknown. The Other One Was the British Ship Prince Oscar From Liverpool—Only Seventeen Saved.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—The British ship Prince Oscar from Liverpool, Captain Henderson, collided in mid-ocean on July 13 with an unknown sailing vessel. Both ships sank in less than 10 minutes. Six members of the crew of the Prince Oscar and all on board the unknown vessel were lost. The survivors, 17 in number, were rescued by the ship Dharwar, after being confined in an open boat with neither food nor water for six days. They were transferred to the British steamship Capae from Pissagaa, and brought to this port last night. The names of the lost are:

William Knight, seaman, of South Shields.

Oscar Nielsen, seaman, of Christiania.

E. Peterson, seaman, of Denmark.

August Carton, deck boy, of Ostend.

J. Belap of Douglas, Isle of Man.

J. Anden on, steward, of Liverpool.

The entire crew of the unknown vessel.

The disaster occurred shortly after midnight in latitude 9:30, south, longitude 28:20, west. The Prince Oscar, which was bound from Shields, which port she left May 27 for Iquique, laden with coal, was going at a clipping gait on the port tack before a brisk wind, and with all canvass set. It is estimated by the crew that she was making about six and a half knots an hour, when suddenly there loomed up directly under her bows a four-masted vessel.

The mate asserts that the stranger had no lights burning, and after she was sighted it was impossible to change the course of the Prince Oscar. The iron hull of the latter struck the unknown full amidships, knocking her almost on her beam end and crashing through the woodwork until her prow was more than half buried. The stranger went over almost on her beam ends as the Prince Oscar backed away. As the crew of the Oscar stood peering through the darkness they saw the stranger partially right herself, and then she rapidly began to sink. They listened awhile in vain for some signs of life, but not a cry for help nor a word of command came from the stricken vessel. In less than four minutes from the time she was struck the stranger keeled over and plunged stern first into the depths below.

Captain Henderson of the Prince Oscar, who was below in his berth, rushed on deck just in time to discover that his ship was also sinking.

The pumps were manned, but in less time than it takes to tell it, it was discovered that there was no hope from that source. Lifeboats were ordered cut adrift and the men were told to jump and swim for their lives. They all went overboard, and with the exception of the unfortunates, reached the small boats.

Captain Henderson, who was the last man to leave the ship, went over in his night garments and swam fully two miles before he was picked up. The boats hovered about the scene of the wreck until daylight came in an effort to rescue the two missing members of the Prince Oscar's crew, and any number of the crew of the stranger who might have been fortunate enough to have kept afloat. They found no one, however, and nothing to indicate the name, home or destination of their companions in misfortune. Finally they left the scene and headed they knew not exactly where. Twenty-four hours later a heavy sea struck the boat commanded by Mate Lynch and capsized it. The occupants, eight in number, were thrown into the sea, and the already overcrowded craft which Captain Henderson commanded put quickly to the rescue. They were successful in getting four of the men aboard. The rest were drowned.

There were now 17 men in the small lifeboat with nothing to eat or drink and barely room to stretch their weary limbs. The sun was broiling hot and their hunger and thirst was almost unbearable. Toward evening of the second day one of the crew discovered a small cask of fish oil stowed in the boat. This was dealt out to the survivors in small doses, and they used it to moisten their parched lips and tongues. Most of the men were partially naked, having had no time to secure any clothes before leaving the vessel.

For three days and nights they floated thus on the bosom of the South Atlantic, and just as they were about to abandon hope, they sighted the ship Dharwar from London, bound to Melbourne. They succeeded in attracting the attention of those on board and were soon on her decks. Four days later they were put aboard the Capae, bound for this port. All of the survivors still bear evidence of the sufferings they endured while aboard the small boat.

Captain Henderson when seen last night was very reticent, preferring not to give the full details of the disaster until he had reported to British Consul Cipperton, which official will be asked to institute a naval court of inquiry and hear the full details of the disaster. After some persuasion, however, Captain Henderson said:

"On the night of July 13, when the collision occurred, I had just turned in, leaving the deck in charge of the chief oldeer. The wind was southwest and squally and there was considerable sea. We were going along possibly six and a half knots an hour with everything set. The main saw nothing of the approaching vessel until she was almost on top of us. She positively asserts that neither of her side lights were burning. She had every stitch of canvas and was jumping through the water at a lively rate. Consequently when the vessels came together the crash was terrific, and the damage was sufficient to cause both to go to the bottom within 10 minutes' time. Not a sound came from those on board the unknown ship, and at the expiration of five minutes the tips of her masts were seen sinking beneath the surface of the water."

Captain Henderson is well advanced in years and has followed the sea since more boy, this being his first serious accident.

Fair; warmer weather.

MAJOR A. T. WOOD, of Mt. Sterling, is an announced candidate for United States Senator, provided the Republicans carry the Legislature at the November election. "The Wood family would like to take all the offices if there were enough to go around," remarks the Advocate of that city.

The Democratic politicians are working hard against Cleveland, but they may fail just as signally as they did in 1892. The office-holding host has the same old-time pull, and it is a pull that leads the procession every time. Its power had a signal demonstration in the Kentucky wrangle a few weeks ago. It was sufficient to overcome Jo Blackburn's popularity, and it requires something of an unusual nature to do this in the State of Kentucky. If Mr. Cleveland is after the fourth nomination you can safely wager your last dollar that the Senatorial contingent cannot beat him. Civil service is a big thing for the men in power when it is nicely worked.—Cincinnati Tribune.

This talk about the office-holding class running things in the President's interest is all bosh. Senator Blackburn's brother is an office holder and one of the biggest in Kentucky. His influence is not against his brother. The mass of the people who are not classed as politicians are the ones who are for the President. They believe he is the right man for the office, and is running the administration in the interests of the country and not merely for party.

"The panic of 1893 lasted five years before there was a sign of recovery. It was under Republican control of the government that it occurred," says the Hunterdon (N. J.) Democrat. "The panic of 1893 began at the close of the Harrison administration, but in less than two years business began to improve so rapidly that it is predicted by well informed business men that it will have reached its old time vigor and prosperity before the close of the year. And it comes under a Democratic Administration. The Republican papers resisted the improvement in business as long as they were able. They were unwilling to admit that improvement was taking place. They made themselves ridiculous by calamity howls even after their news columns announced the unmistakable improvement in business. Now that they deem it inexpedient longer to deny the fact they insist that the Democratic party is not entitled to any credit for it." Of course. That's a trick they are always trying to work on the people.

NO SHEEP TO SELL.

"Here is a three-line local advertisement taken from the columns of the Cherry Tree Record," says the Philadelphia Times.

For the next twenty days wool wanted at Garmen's store, Beringer, Pa., at 20 cents in trade.

"Under the Wilson tariff, Washington County sheep are not worth three cents a pound on the hoof and the Ohio article cannot be given away—so the McKinley agitators declare during the spasms of their fierce devotion to high taxes," adds the Times. "But the farmers with wool to sell strike the business end of an argument at the right size in notices such as the Cherry Tree Record and other papers have been printing largely.

"Clearfield County tub-washed wool is quoted in the Clearfield Public Spirit at twenty-two cents a pound. The Du-Bois Express has the same figures and along with the market quotations publishes this item of news:

Clearfield County tub-washed wool is selling for about 22 cents a pound. P. S. Weber sold a quantity of wool a short time ago to Bradford & Smith, of Philadelphia, at 20 cents a pound and since that time the price has gone up 10 per cent.

"Of course the stump philosophers and choice orators of the McKinley type who told the farmers to sell their sheep when the McKinley law was repealed last year are calling in their advice for revision. With prices for wool higher to-day by eight cents a pound than they were in 1890 such advice is nonsense.

"In the meantime the woolen mill at Reynoldsville buys pelts and skins from the farmers of Jefferson County at 23 cents a pound in the very section where the ruination of the sheep raising industry was pronounced as exceptionally complete under the new tariff law. Evidently a law that ruins prices by raising them is the best kind of ruin to the farmers."

THE FAIR OF FAIRS.

It is Maysville's Blue Ribbon Fair and it has Always Been a Success. Get Ready For It.

Of course you are making preparations to attend the Maysville fair and races. It will be the great attraction week after next. August 21st-24th, inclusive, are the dates.

Last year and the year before there was a cry of "hard times," but that didn't lessen the attendance much, if any at all. From every hand now comes the cheering news of a great business revival, and with times steadily growing better, people can afford to take a few days off this year, and go to the fair week after next where they can meet and greet their friends, see the displays in the floral hall and arena, witness the exciting contests in the speed ring and have a good time generally. You ought all to be the better for the rest and recreation it will afford you.

The C. and O. Railroad will run trains to the fair grounds every fifteen minutes; fare, 15 cents round trip.

The electric cars run directly to the grand stand, and charge 5 cents each way.

The dining hall will be under control of experienced parties; a first-class dinner at 25 cents.

Reliable persons will have charge of hitching and feeding department, and will take good care of horses at a reasonable compensation.

The K. C. R. R. will run a special train on each day from Paris, arriving at Maysville at 8:45 a. m.; leaving at 5:15 p. m. One fare round trip.

Live stock and articles on exhibition at this fair will be returned over the K. C. and C. and O. free of charge upon presentation of certificate from the Secretary showing that they have been on exhibition and not changed ownership. Special trains on the C. and O. both up and down the river. Special train from Cincinnati and return each day; round trip fare only $1.25.

The steamer M. P. Wells will leave Augusta at 11:30 a. m. each day, for the fair.

The Silver Wave will leave Manchester at 12:30, returning after the fair—one fare round trip.

Get ready to attend the great Blue Ribbon fair.

Rates of admission; general admission (except grand stand), 25 cents; grand stand, 25 cents; children under twelve and over five, 15 cents; children under five, free; all private conveyances, free. Tickets must be procured at the office on the grounds, or in Maysville, as positively no money will be received at the gate.

OUT OF POLITICS FOREVER.

Colonel Breckinridge Says the Highest Office Would Not Tempt Him Now.

[Cincinnati Tribune.]

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 7.—Colonel W. P. C. Breckinridge has withdrawn from politics forever.

Seated in his law office, calmly looking over masses of legal documents, with eyes as clear almost as they were in his youth and a face as ruddy and as healthy looking as can be found in all this beautiful Blue Grass region, was colonel W. P. C. Breckinridge this morning when a Tribune representative called.

"Really and truly," said he, "I am out of politics. I have had nothing to say since I left Congress. I wish to be forgotten as a politician. I have had enough. My heart has grown sick and tired of the malicious and contumelious reports of myself personally and politically. The highest political office within the gift of my beloved Kentucky friends would not tempt me now. I am done forever and forever. I never knew how sweet, or, at least, never appreciated the pleasures of private life until I settled down at my old home after an absence of ten years."

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the Spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malaria poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at J. James Wood's drug store.

E. R. FITHIAN, a Paris merchant, died this week of heart disease. He leaves a wife and five children.

NOW FOR THE REDS.

They Will Play Here This Afternoon. The Game at Vanceburg—Base Ball Gossip.

The Reds came up from Cincinnati on the morning train arriving at 10 a. m. and will play the Maysvilles this afternoon. One of the greatest games of the season is expected, and a big crowd will be out to pull for a victory for the locals. Captain Buck Ewing, "Biddy" McPhee, "Germany" Smith, "Bug" Holliday, "Dusty" Miller, Eddie Burke, "Farmer" Vaughn, and the Reds strongest pitcher will be in the game, for it would break their hearts to be defeated again by the Maysvilles.

FAIR WARNING.

The parties who have been viewing the games free of charge from wagons and drays stationed along the north fence are probably not aware of the fact that there is a city ordinance fixing a severe penalty for obstructing the streets. The city officials give fair warning that parties caught at this hereafter will be arrested and dealt with according to law. A word to the wise is sufficient.

It's a go this time. The Murphysville ball team and a picked nine of Maysville will play at the new park Saturday afternoon; admission 10 cents. The following gives the names and positions of the two teams:

MAYSVILLE.	MURPHYSVILLE.
Nollin.....Pitcher.....	Forman.....Catcher.....
Lloyd.....First Base.....	Crawford.....Second Base.....
Luman.....Second Base.....	Snapp.....Third Base.....
Wells.....Third Base.....	Forman.....Left Field.....

Crane.....Right Field.....

The Reds arrived on the 10 o'clock train. The Ashland News frankly admits that the Maysvilles are too rapid for the Ashland boys.

Wadsworth and Sutherland each made two home runs and Wellner one in the last game at Ashland.

Ashland News: "Hilleary was the bright particular star on the batting list of the Maysville team Tuesday."

"The Maysville's great hold on the game is the fact that they know every particular of it," says the Ashland News.

The Huntingtons and Irontons are pretty evenly matched. The two games this week stood 6-5, 5-4 in favor of the West Virginians.

Rieman and Tenley will be in the points for Maysville, with Sutherland at first, McGann at second, Van Winkle at third, Heilman at short, Hall in right, Wadsworth center, and Cox in left.

The exhibition game at Vanceburg yesterday afternoon was not finished. On account of repeated rank decisions of the umpire, the Maysvilles quit the field at beginning of the second inning. When they quit the score stood, Maysville 4, Vanceburg 0.

River News.

Earnshaw McMillan, of Dover, has accepted a position as clerk on the steamer Bonanza.

The Bonanza has been withdrawn from the Maysville trade, and the Bedford takes her place.

The Bonanza got 137 hogsheads of tobacco at Augusta Monday evening on her down trip, at 25 cents a hogshead.

Captain William Bay, of the Bay Line, is thinking of building a light draft boat similar to the Sunshine especially for the Portsmouth-Cincinnati run. A larger boat than the Ruth they are compelled to have in this trade as the Ruth has to refuse freight and people almost every trip, says the Portsmouth Tribune. A boat the size of the Stanley may be built, however, and the Lizzie Bay will in that event take the Portsmouth-Cincinnati run.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at J. James Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

MAYSVILLE COMMANDERY.

List of Knights and Ladies Who Will Attend the Coming Triennial Conclave at Boston.

"Maysville Commandery 10, of Maysville, Ky., better known as the '5-15-22,' will escort Rt. Em. Sir Samuel H. Stone, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, and Rt. Em. Sir Warren LaRue Thomas, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Encampment at the Boston Conclave, says the Boston Globe.

"This Commandery will leave Maysville August 23, at 6 a. m., arriving at the B. and A. station Sunday, August 25, at 5 p. m., proceeding to its headquarters and sleeping apartments at the Brunswick.

"The following officers of the Commandery will attend: Em. Sir George W. Rogers Commander, Sir R. P. Jenkins Junior Warden, Sir E. A. Robinson Treasurer, and Past Commanders Martin H. Smith, G. S. Wall, Lewis Apperson, E. A. Robinson, R. L. Browning and W. C. Miner.

"These Sir Knights will also attend the conclave: Robert R. Burnaw, J. W. d'Armon, L. T. Everett, R. P. Jenkins, Thomas A. Keith, O. C. Kubach, I. W. Landram, W. D. Malone, W. J. McKee, William Trouts, A. M. Valz and J. M. Webb.

"The ladies in the party will number fourteen, as follows: Mesdames Apperson, Robinson, Malone, McKee, Stone, Burnaw, Keith, Valz, Witt, d'Armon and Misses Elizabeth and Harriet Apperson, Anna Witt and E. D. Rankin.

"Ryan Commandery, 17, of Danville; Richmond, 19, of Richmond; Henderson, 14, of Henderson; Paducah, 11, of Paducah, will be represented in the party. "Maysville Commandery has attended the triennial conclaves regularly since Cleveland, 1877, where it won its name of '5-15-22.'"

THE SHOE FACTORY.

It Was Bought by Maysville Parties Yesterday Who Will Continue the Business—The Price

Mr. John Duley, the assignee of the Maysville Shoe Manufacturing Company, sold the plant yesterday afternoon at public auction. The result is embodied in the following, which was given out for publication:

"The entire plant, including stock, material and unfinished shoes, was sold for $5,500 to Mr. H. C. Barkley for parties interested, who will continue the business. This amount does not include the accounts and finished shoes on hand."

It is learned that the prospects are good for an early reorganization of the company on a stronger basis.

The factory is a good thing for Maysville and it ought to prove a success.

THE THREE GREAT CITIES.

Interesting Comparative Statistics Relative to London, Paris and New York.

[New York Herald.]
New York by the census of 1895 is a city of 2,000,000 inhabitants.
The population of London is 4,200,000. The population of Paris is 2,400,000. The area of London is 75,000 acres. The area of Paris is 18,700 acres. The area of New York is 24,000 acres.

London has 600,000 houses. Paris has 90,000 houses. New York has 115,000 houses. London averages seven residents to a house, Paris 25, New York 18. London has 1,380 miles of streets. Paris has 600 miles of street. New York has 575 miles of streets. London has 2,300 miles of sewers. Paris has 410. New York has 444.

The water supply of London is 175,000,000 gallons a day. The water supply of Paris is 100,000,000 gallons a day. The water supply of New York is 190,000,000 gallons a day. New York stands at the head of the three chief cities in this particular.

London has 1,000 firemen. Paris has 1,500. New York has 1,100. Fires are much more frequent, in proportion to the population, in New York than in either London or Paris. London loses $7,500,000 a year. Paris $1,500,000 and New York $5,000,000 by fires.

Hyde Park, the most distinctive of London parks, covers 400 acres. The Bois de Boulogne, the most distinctive of Paris parks, covers 2,200 acres. Central Park, the most distinctive of New York parks, covers 840 acres.

Collectively (and including those parts in the suburbs tributary to London) there are in London 22,000 acres of park land. Including as parks the neighboring forests of Fontainebleau, with 42,000 acres, and St. Germain, with 8,000, the park acreage of Paris is 172,000 acres.

New York city has no regular army garrison except on Governor's Island. London has a small garrison, the Guards and a few regiments of infantry and artillery, 7,000 in all. Paris has as a garrison a large army—the largest city garrison in Europe.

The municipal expenses of London are $70,000,000. The municipal expenses of Paris are $65,000,000. The municipal expenses of New York, State taxes included, are $40,000,000.

London has 14,000 policemen. Paris has 6,000 policemen. New York has 3,800 policemen. The ordinary arrests in New York in a year are 85,000, in Paris 100,000 and in London 150,000.

Street lighting costs $2,800,000 in London, $3,500,000 in Paris and $800,000 in New York. Gas was introduced in London one year in advance of Paris. Eight years later it was introduced in New York. London has 75,000 street lamps, Paris 50,000 and New York 28,000, exclusive of electric lights.

London was founded in the year 60. Paris was founded in 360. New York was founded in 1614. All three are on rivers.

The number of inhabitants per acre in London is 50, in Paris 120 and in New York 80. The density of population in London is greatest in the Whitechapel district, in Paris in the Temple district (290 per acre), and in New York in the Tenth ward (Jewish quarter), 700.

WAGES ADVANCED.

Pittsburg Puddlers Get a Big Increase of Pay.

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 3.—The biggest wage advance of years was to-day voluntarily given to the union puddlers through the action of the Shenango and Mahoning Valley manufacturers. That district, the sixth, makes the price for the country generally. The puddlers will get an advance of 25 cents a ton. They are now receiving $4 a ton, which is the base price for boiling in the Amalgamated scale. It will raise the wages of about 3,000 puddlers in the Pittsburg district. Later the benefits will accrue to at least 30,000 finishers.

The Virtues of Buttermilk.

[Exchange.]

Concerning the medical value of buttermilk, the Medical Adviser says that it is of so much worth that it has gained a distinct place in materia medica, and is largely prescribed by the best physicians for chest and lung troubles. An excessive buttermilk diet has seemed to bring about a cure for Bright's disease. A proper and constant use of it will greatly reduce and sometimes cure the craving for alcoholic liquors with which many persons are afflicted. The craving may be satisfied and the system benefited and strengthened instead of weakened. Buttermilk alone will often remedy acidity of the stomach. The lactic acid needed in many cases is supplied by it much more than by any other drink or food. It is said to alleviate the oppression about the heart that so many old people suffer from, and it should be constantly drunk by them. It is to a certain extent a stimulant for the entire system, just what the aged need.

For the Farmers.

Kid & Judy, of Mt. Sterling, bought and shipped 25 cattle of Marion Hadden, 30 head from Will Jones, 67 head from Cap. Gillispie. These cattle averaged 1500 lbs and were bought from 4 to 44 cents.

Kentucky has the honor of producing the first mare to become the dam of two 2:10 trotters. She is Beulah, the dam of Beuzetta, 2:04, and Early Bird, 2:10. She is also the dam of two others in the 2:30 list, all trotters.

The chestnut gelding Elkin, 2:24, that won the 2:23 class, trotting, at Richmond, on Saturday of last week, was sold immediately after the race by C. B. Nevins, of Lancaster, Ky., to Lee Thomas, of Lexington, for $400. Elkin is nine years old, and was sired by Abdullah Mambri, out of Mattie by Berkeley's American Clay. He has been in the stable of A. J. Coleman, Harrodsburg, but was transferred by his new owner to the barn of W. J. Young, at the Lexington track, who will train him for the remainder of the season.—Kentucky Stock Farm.

Food

—But No Appetite

is a worse fix than "appetite, but no food." Can you eat a meal with relish, or can't you? If you can't your stomach probably needs looking after, and this is the way to look after it: Take a tablespoonful of

in a little water, three times a day for a week and you'll be surprised how well you'll feel, and how hungry you'll be, and—but isn't this enough?

Brown's Iron Bitters is a medicine for all ages—children like it, and old persons nearly always need it.

It is pleasant to take and will not stain the teeth nor cause constipation. See the crossed red lines on the wrapper.

DEMOCRATIC RULE.

What it Has Done to Wipe Out the Republican Debt of the South.

"Under Republican rule," says the Paducah Standard, "Alabama was burdened with the enormous debt of $52,761,917; Louisiana, $40,021,734; Georgia, $42,560,500; South Carolina, $22,480,516; Florida, $15,787,587; Arkansas, $19,398,000.

"Such was the condition of these States when carpet-bag Republican rule was wiped out, and Democracy was again placed in charge of the affairs of these States, since which time the debt of Alabama has been reduced to $12,413,190; Louisiana to $16,088,585; North Carolina to $7,703,100; South Carolina, to $6,943,502; Georgia, to $10,449,542; Arkansas to $8,671,782 Florida to $1,031,913.

"Kentucky, with thirty years of continuous Democratic rule, has only the insignificant debt of $500,000, and while the people have not been taxed to keep a treasury full of idle money, and during the hard times of last year the tax levy was not sufficient to keep everything paid up to the dot, yet to-day Treasurer Hale's report shows the State's finances in excellent condition, and the deficit almost wiped out.

"The Democratic party can point with pride to its record in the management of State affairs, and Mr. Bradley will have a hard time to convince the people that they need any Republican medicine, which has been fatal to the interests of every State that has taken the dose."

BIG PROFITS Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our.....

$10.00 Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

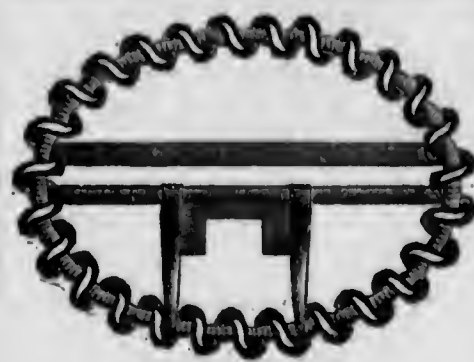

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.
